Students Discuss Millage Increase

STEVE CARTER, DEBBIE OWENS, and RICKY RENSHAW

At the Hope Rotary Club luncheon meeting in the Town and Country last Friday, three students from Hope High spoke on the program. First, Ricky Renshaw urged voters to support the millage increase in the local election March 10 and pointed out the need for more money for buildings, equipment, and teachers' salaries. "Proper assessment of property could also aid the situation," he said.

Debbie Owens spoke on the conservation of land and wildlife and how vital it is to our country's future. Steve Carter discussed the spirit of a school and community. He said that both must be based on high moral standards in order to have successful results in their various undertakings. "The Holy Spirit should be the guiding spirit in times of trial, temptation, or everyday living," he said.

Dr. Sam Strong arranged the program and introduced the speakers. President Benny Coleman welcomed one visiting Rotarian, Charles Wilburn of Texarkana, and three guests, Bob West of the Texarkana Gazette, Bob Roberts and John Hatley.

Says Legislature Pinpointed Tax Issue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Clarence Bell of Parkin, said Saturday that the legislature "has pinpointed the issue the people have to decide upon in the November General Election: Whether they want a massive tax increase or not."

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller may run for a third term. The legislature has consistently rebelled against Rockefeller's tax programs. A 1969 request for $95 million in new taxes was cut to $22 million. Last week's special session rejected the governor's $35 million tax package. Sen. Knox Nelson of Pine Bluff said, "It's unfortunate, but the administration did not put forth a positive program that the people would buy."

Indians Are Repelled by U.S. Army

SEATTLE (AP) — The Army has repelled a band of Indians who attempted to take over part of a fort, arresting actress Jane Fonda and about 65 other persons in the process. After the day-long demonstration Sunday eight Indians said they had been beaten and clubbed by military police in a cell at the Ft. Lawton stockade here.

Miss Fonda and 13 other persons were seized by MPs at Ft. Lewis, about 35 miles south of here, after a larger group was unsuccessful in efforts to occupy a section of 1,100-acre Ft. Lawton, part of which is scheduled to be made surplus by the Army and may become a park. The Indians, numbering approximately 160, were met by the 392nd Military Police Co. on their second attempt to enter Ft. Lawton. The group, which called itself the "United American Indian Ft. Lawton Occupational Force," climbed over fences, and scaled a high bluff. The Indians, some carrying sleeping bags and food, read a proclamation demanding that an "Indian University," and cultural center be developed on the fort.

Addressed to "the great white father and all his people," the proclamation said: "In the name of all Indians, we reclaim this land for all Indian tribes."

Col. Stuart Palos, Ft. Lawton commander, said Miss Fonda's lawyer was given a "letter of expulsion" banning her from the post after she took part in the demonstration.

About 72 persons, including women and children, were held briefly at the post stockade for illegal entry. At the main gate, other members of the group sang and beat drums while the 72 were questioned and released.

Palos said Miss Fonda was "found with about 14 others in an Army tactical area" at Ft. Lewis after she was ejected from Ft. Lawton.

"She was taken into custody because she was in violation of the expulsion letter," he explained. "Ft. Lawton is a satellite base of Ft. Lewis."

Miss Fonda and the others taken into custody at Ft. Lewis were held briefly. After her release she visited the Tacoma Shelter House, a coffee house for soldiers.

Her attorney, Mark Lane, of New York, said Miss Fonda would hold a news conference in Seattle this afternoon to give her account of the demonstrations.

The Indian group called a news conference after the demonstrations and charged MPs at Ft. Lawton had beaten at least eight men in the fort's stockade.

Sid Mills of Yakima, Wash., spokesman for the Indians, said he and seven other men were beaten when they refused to be released from their cells after, Mills related, an MP said he had a "personal grudge" to settle with Mills and would hold him longer than the others.

Mills, who had a black eye, said he was beaten by several MPs, including one who used a nightstick. Other Indians said MPs took their film and tape-recordings.

Palos said he was "stunned" at the allegations, but would "check into it immediately."

Goldwater Judgment Is Upheld

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused today to reconsider an appeal by publisher Ralph Ginzburg against a $75,000 libel judgment won against him by Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

The Court had denied a hearing of Ginzburg's appeal Jan. 26 by a 5-2 vote.

Goldwater sued Ginzburg and Fact Magazine for libel over an article during the senator's 1964 presidential campaign which contended Goldwater had a paranoid personality and was unfit for the presidency.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — "Dial Hot Line," a two-hour film feature on ABC Sunday night, gave viewers a king-size preview of a series scheduled for the network next season.

Vince Edwards starred as a sort of super social worker, handling the assignment as if Ben Casey had switched from neurosurgery to psychiatry. He operated a telephone service for young people who needed to talk out their problems.

The "Hot Line" was handled by young volunteers on the idea that the young want to talk to the young. Presumably we met the volunteers assigned as regulars for the series. The pilot show encompassed a number of cases—a boy threatening suicide and carrying out his threat; a psychotic youth who attacked a Hot Line volunteer; a run-away boy, and a rebellious 16-year-old girl who hated everybody, particularly her mother.

The show, in spite of all the plots and subplots, kept along at a snail's pace. There were too many characters to get to know any, and Edwards was aloof, grim and remote without any compensating human qualities.

Television has not seen many social workers since the demise a few seasons back of "East Side, West Side," in which George C. Scott played a social worker. Post mortems of the series' short run usually included a diagnosis that the social worker as hero was mistake. He was forced to be a spectator of other people's problems instead of a protagonist. This ABC pilot suggests the same trouble will plague "Dial Hot Line."

The three networks turned out with a will to permit viewers, no matter where situated, to enjoy the spectacle of a total eclipse of the sun—the type event television can cover superbly.

They scattered reporters and cameras from Mexico to Nova Scotia. They set up animal experiments—most of which did not work. They interviewed scientists and they spent a lot of time warning the public not to look at the eclipse with unprotected eyes.

The most effective camera coverage came from Mexico;

Let's hear it for imported strawberries!

INITIALLY, the importation of the homegrown, ripe strawberries on her record this winter, she probably won't even consider the time and trouble it took to travel to get to the table.

She probably never heard of the least effective was from a plane.

CBS premiered a new series, "Adventure," on Friday night with a sketchy account of a 2,000-mile voyage on the Pacific from Peru to Central America in a primitive craft made of bundles of reeds.

The project, dreamed up by an American adventurer named Gene Savoy, was to test a theory that the early Indian civilization of Central America had its roots further south.

The program was a colorful hour with handsome mountain and ocean scenery but it seemed more of a TV stunt than a real scientific experiment.

Zanussi, and the company's marketing department, which is a major factor in the company's success. The company will come from the area of the United States and the company's marketing department, which is a major factor in the company's success.

By 1977, a whopping 21.5 million pounds of fresh strawberries will be imported into the U.S. from Mexico. The value of that year's import crop was more than $13 million.

Outside of Hildago, the only other major port of entry for Mexican strawberries is at Laredo, Tex. The season lasts about six months.

Notre Dame Gunning for Kentucky

By BEN THOMAS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Notre Dame's basketball coach John Dwyer, who is usually compared to the Kentucky Wildcats, is taking five Canadians to Texas to play hockey.

Actually, Dwyer, whose Fighting Irish won their way to the NCAA Regional Tourney at Columbus, Ohio, by routing Ohio U. 118-95, was recalling an earlier verbal exchange when he made the crack about hockey in Texas.

With Kentucky likely to move up to the No. 1 ranking this week, Thursday's regional at Columbus pitting the Southeastern Conference champions against Notre Dame shapes up as the glamor match in college basketball's post-season playoffs.

Kentucky, currently No. 2, finished its regular season Saturday night by drubbing Tennessee 66-69. Hours earlier, Rupp watched on television as Notre Dame, behind Austin Carr's NCAA tourney record 61 points, whipped Ohio U.

"I was of the opinion that Ohio U. was a much stronger team," said Rupp, shooting for his fifth national championship. "Whether Notre Dame is that much stronger or Ohio U. that much overrated remains to be seen."

But Rupp calls Notre Dame "much improved over the team we played in Louisville."

Kentucky beat the Irish 102-100 in Louisville, which was supposed to be a neutral site but was actually almost like the Wildcats' homecourt.

Notre Dame played—and lost—to South Carolina (in the Sugar Bowl Tourney final) and UCLA in the next two days. This brutal schedule by the Irish led to an unkind comment or two from Rupp.

Dwyer fired back by saying Kentucky's SEC prowess was akin to Canadians playing hockey against Texas—a comment Dwyer now says was taken out of context.

UCLA's one loss last week may drop the Bruins out of the No. 1 ranking and vault Kentucky, currently No. 2, into the top spot in the final ratings.

Incidentally, Baron Adolph, while admitting Notre Dame is "much improved," quietly added: "It's just possible we're a little stronger, too."

Kentucky takes a 25-1 record to Columbus while Notre Dame is now 21-6.

The Wildcats and Fighting Irish will be joined at Columbus by sixth-ranked Jacksonville, 24-1, and No. 8 Iowa, 19-4.

Jacksonville, with 7-foot-2 Artie Gilmore scoring 30 points, beat Western Kentucky 109-96 Saturday night in the first round of NCAA playoffs. Iowa won the Big Ten title and ended its season Saturday night at 115-101 victor over Northwestern.

The week-long National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics tourney at Kansas City, featuring undefeated Stephen F. Austin, the nation's top-ranked small college team; the NCAA College Division Tourney and the 33rd National Invitational Tourney in New York are also on this week's post-season round-ball menu.

Palmer Fades on Putt in Citrus Meet

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Golf Writer

ORLANDO, Fla. AP — "I thought I had made it," said Arnold Palmer. "It was in the cup and out."

"I thought he'd made it," said Bob Lunn. "I just couldn't imagine Arnold Palmer three-putting from that distance."

But Palmer did. A national television audience watched while the golfing idol of millions blew a four-foot putt on the final hole and let Lunn escape with the $30,000 first prize Sunday in the weather-plagued Florida Citrus Invitational Golf Tournament.

"Well," said an obviously dejected Palmer, "we had it going for a while. It's the way I like to play. Only I don't like to lose."

Palmer and the bull-strong Lunn, 16 years younger and 30 pounds heavier than Arnie, were locked in a head and head duel for 36 holes on the gruelling final day.

Palmer had a 64, eight under par, in the morning round and moved into the lead, with Lunn just one stroke back after a 67. Palmer had a final 72 and Lunn a 70 for 271, 17 under a par. The double round was forced by the rained-out first round Thursday.

The lead see-sawed back and forth between Palmer and Lunn all day, and no more than a single stroke ever separated them. And, going into the final 18 holes, it became a two-man race.

But the high drama was saved for the 18th. They came to it all even. Then, on the 18th, the trees on the right, Palmer was down the fairway. Arnie pitched on about 35 feet from the pin while Lunn bent a beautiful shot around the trees but left himself a 70-footer.

"I thought, 'Bob, if you're going to do something, now's the time,'" said the balding, soft-spoken Lunn. He missed by four inches and tapped in for the par.

Palmer ran his 35-foot birdie putt four feet by the hole, then missed it coming back and had to settle for a tie for second with Australian Bob Stanton, who had a final 68 for 272.

Dick Lotz had a final 68 and was alone at 275. Tied at 276 were Tom Welskopf, Tom Shaw and Dick Crawford, with Bruce Crampton, Bruce Devlin and Howie Johnson at 277. Jack Nicklaus finished well back at 280.

"This was my greatest moment in golf," said Lunn, who had won three previous tour titles and has been on the tour since 1967.

A rating this week following a Friday night 87-86 loss to Southern California, averaged that defeat Saturday night by thrashing the Trojans 91-78. It was the final regular season game for the Uclians, who have won the NCAA championship three straight years.

Third-ranked South Carolina finds itself in the role of tourney host—and nothing else—after losing 42-39 in double overtime to North Carolina State Saturday in the finals of the Atlantic Coast Conference tourney.

The NCAA berth from the ACC went automatically to N.C. State, although the Gamecocks swept 14 straight conference games.

Close Ones Eluded the Bobcats

By RALPH ROUNTON

Star Sports Writer

Basketball season is completed at Hope High School, and the time has come to relive and talk about it.

To start off, the Bobcats came under the new realm of John Ross, a highly successful coach with the marks of Marquetteboro and Camden Harmony Grove. He came here to develop a winner, and the results have been encouraging.

With a group that never had been through a competent junior or high program and had gone 10-36 the past two seasons, Ross took and welded together a 13-14 team and welded together a 13-14 record for the '69-70 campaign.

Against the roughest competition in the state, that is not bad. The other teams in 4-AA's Western Division, Camden Lincoln (23-4), Fairview (22-7), and Arkadelphia (19-4) have a combined record of 87 wins and 24 defeats with all but Malvern facing the state tournament this week.

There will be such a thickly-balanced foursome in one division again for a while. In 4-AA West, Hope only managed an overtime 69-68 win over Arkadelphia, runner-up to Fairview in the region tourney last week.

But when the chips were down in the big ones, this Bobcat team simply wasn't ready to be winners. Tied in the final minute, Malvern squeezed out of Jones Field House ahead 63-57; Fairview scored the last six points of a 61-51 victory at Hope.

Those two came on successive nights, which could've been the turning point of the whole season. Two ains then, on January 23 and 24, would have left the Cats 11-6 and 3-1 in the division. But it didn't work out that way.

Senior 6-5 forward Larry Muldrew led the scorers with 17 points a game until a groin injury put him out of the last five games. Center John Dudley, a 6-6 soph, played aggressively on defense and averaged at 16 points a game through the year.

That pair could compete, and usually dominate, anybody. That came forth against Fairview's Mike Green and Shady Patton Malvern's Freddie Jones and Joyce Bailey, and everybody from Camden Lincoln.

At their best, Camden Lincoln has been untouched by anyone this year. Don't be surprised if, as 4-AA's fourth-place representative, they repeat as state champions.

Probably the most worrisome problem for Ross with the Bobcats was the lack of a confident, experienced, and good-shooting backcourt. Parker Powell, a 5-11 junior, played steadily throughout with a high game of points, but much of his scoring was foul shots.

Sophomore David Briggs showed some promise with his jump shot, but never completely shook off some lapses where turnovers and bad passes were frequent.

An answer to the scoring end of the problem came with Charles Frazier, a junior who became eligible at semester. With much raw ability, Frazier can dazzle with his fine jumping ability, moves, and shots. He will improve defensively, and his 14 points every time out will even more valuable.

After Muldrew's injury, 6-3 soph Lynn Norton stepped in and averaged 10 points in all of those last five games. Lynn is a left-hander and led the "B" Bruins to their 11-5 record, and should fit in the future.

There are so many other, Ronnie Massanelli, the 5-11 junior guard and an outstanding defenseman still lacks true confidence in scoring and 6-3 forward Charles Ratliff never really got started between injuries and missed playing time.

Still there are plenty more, all with a shot at being on a winner next time around. And this bunch was so close.

For instance, look at the teams in the state Class A final last Saturday night at Little Rock, Ouachita, who beat Prescott 65-61, came here two weeks ago and trailed by as many as 15 points before the final 82-77 defeat Hope dealt them.

To start off, the Bobcats came under the new realm of John Ross, a highly successful coach with the marks of Marquetteboro and Camden Harmony Grove. He came here to develop a winner, and the results have been encouraging.

With a group that never had been through a competent junior or high program and had gone 10-36 the past two seasons, Ross took and welded together a 13-14 team and welded together a 13-14 record for the '69-70 campaign.

Against the roughest competition in the state, that is not bad. The other teams in 4-AA's Western Division, Camden Lincoln (23-4), Fairview (22-7), and Arkadelphia (19-4) have a combined record of 87 wins and 24 defeats with all but Malvern facing the state tournament this week.

There will be such a thickly-balanced foursome in one division again for a while. In 4-AA West, Hope only managed an overtime 69-68 win over Arkadelphia, runner-up to Fairview in the region tourney last week.

But when the chips were down in the big ones, this Bobcat team simply wasn't ready to be winners. Tied in the final minute, Malvern squeezed out of Jones Field House ahead 63-57; Fairview scored the last six points of a 61-51 victory at Hope.

Those two came on successive nights, which could've been the turning point of the whole season. Two ains then, on January 23 and 24, would have left the Cats 11-6 and 3-1 in the division. But it didn't work out that way.

Senior 6-5 forward Larry Muldrew led the scorers with 17 points a game until a groin injury put him out of the last five games. Center John Dudley, a 6-6 soph, played aggressively on defense and averaged at 16 points a game through the year.

That pair could compete, and usually dominate, anybody. That came forth against Fairview's Mike Green and Shady Patton Malvern's Freddie Jones and Joyce Bailey, and everybody from Camden Lincoln.

At their best, Camden Lincoln has been untouched by anyone this year. Don't be surprised if, as 4-AA's fourth-place representative, they repeat as state champions.

Probably the most worrisome problem for Ross with the Bobcats was the lack of a confident, experienced, and good-shooting backcourt. Parker Powell, a 5-11 junior, played steadily throughout with a high game of points, but much of his scoring was foul shots.

Sophomore David Briggs showed some promise with his jump shot, but never completely shook off some lapses where turnovers and bad passes were frequent.

An answer to the scoring end of the problem came with Charles Frazier, a junior who became eligible at semester. With much raw ability, Frazier can dazzle with his fine jumping ability, moves, and shots. He will improve defensively, and his 14 points every time out will even more valuable.

After Muldrew's injury, 6-3 soph Lynn Norton stepped in and averaged 10 points in all of those last five games. Lynn is a left-hander and led the "B" Bruins to their 11-5 record, and should fit in the future.

There are so many other, Ronnie Massanelli, the 5-11 junior guard and an outstanding defenseman still lacks true confidence in scoring and 6-3 forward Charles Ratliff never really got started between injuries and missed playing time.

Still there are plenty more, all with a shot at being on a winner next time around. And this bunch was so close.

For instance, look at the teams in the state Class A final last Saturday night at Little Rock, Ouachita, who beat Prescott 65-61, came here two weeks ago and trailed by as many as 15 points before the final 82-77 defeat Hope dealt them.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Ouachita rallied from a one-point halftime deficit and held off a last desperate bid by Prescott to claim its first Class A basketball title since 1959 Saturday night in Little Rock.

The final score was 65-61. Ouachita trailed at intermission by 30-29, but the Warriors could almost do no wrong in the second half.

High scorers for Ouachita were Mike Martin with 16, Mont Morin with 14, David Shultz had 13, and Neil Thelan scored 10.

Steve Wren led Prescott with 21. Salem won the sportsmanship award and the scholarship trophy went to Mulberry with a 3.2 grade average.

American Girl Wins Bronze Medal

LUJBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—If there was a title for the most surprising performance at the World Figure Skating Championships, it might go to Julie Lynn Holmes, a 19-year-old student from Littleton, Colo.

Miss Holmes captured a bronze medal in the women's singles, beating American rival Janet Lynn, 17, of Rockford, Ill. Miss Holmes, runner-up to Miss Lynn in the U.S. Nationals, was most impressive in the compulsory figures competition, which counted for 50 per cent.

Miss Lynn came in a disappointing sixth, despite a second place finish to beautiful blonde Gabriella Seyfert of East Germany, who won her second straight championship. Beatrix Schuba of Austria again finished second to Miss Seyfert.

Plenty of Scoring in Exhibition

By SHEILA MORAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Houston and Kansas City played only one exhibition baseball game Sunday but the totals looked like a triple-header.

The Astros finally won 20-19 after the teams combined for 54 hits good for 100 bases, eight home runs, and sent 12 pitchers to the showers at Terry Field in Fort Myers, Fla. The entire production took three hours, 21 minutes.

Natural elements played a part, too. A 20-mile an hour wind blowing to center field no doubt contributed to some of the homers. Puddles in the outfield left by a 4 1/2-inch overnight rain helped the hits fall in.

The game upstaged the world champion New York Mets' 17-7 rout of the St. Louis Cardinals in St. Petersburg, Fla. Those two teams totaled only 35 hits and used eight pitchers, including Tom Seaver, the Mets' Cy Young winner, who worked three innings. Seaver allowed two runs on four hits.

Dennis Menke and Doug Rader provided the heroics for the Astros. Menke drove in seven runs and Rader, 6-for-6, including three doubles and a homer, added five more. Pat Kelly had two doubles and a homer for Kansas City.

Rookie shortstop Ted Martinez and veteran Ron Swoboda starred for the Mets. Martinez drove in six runs with two homers, one of them a grand slam. Swoboda also blasted two homers, good for five more runs.

Detroit and Minnesota also registered impressive totals in a 12-11 decision won by the Tigers in the ninth inning. Jim Price and Al Kaline homered for Detroit while Paul Ray Powell homered for the Twins.

A grand slam homer by Bobby Tolan and a homer by Lee May paced Cincinnati to an 8-7 victory over the Chicago White Sox. The White Sox got four runs and then loaded the bases in a ninth-inning rally but reliever John Noriega came on and thwarted further scoring.

University of Denver Ski Champion

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP) — The University of Denver is the NCAA ski champion for the ninth time in 10 years.

With Ole Willman, Odd Hammernes and Mike Keene finishing third, fifth and eighth, respectively, in the final jumping event, Denver finished the meet with 386.6 points Saturday, easily withstanding the challenge of Dartmouth.

The host Indians, the Eastern champions and well-acustomed to chasing Denver throughout the years, again had a bridesmaid role, finishing second with 278.8 points.

Colorado, helped by Jay Rand's victory with leaps of 166 and 156 feet in the 50-meter jump, was third with 377.3 points, followed by Wyoming with 367, Fort Lewis 362.3 and Middlebury 362.2.

Horse Racing Returns to Aqueduct

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
Thoroughbred horse racing returns to New York on Tuesday and some 35,000 are expected to be on hand at Aqueduct when the bugle sounds for the first post parade.

The opening of the long 234-day New York season that includes later meetings at Belmont Park and Saratoga highlights the racing week.

The $25,000-a-ded Swift Stakes, a six-furlong sprint for 3-year-olds, again heads the opening card. Ogden Phipps' Reviewer, a 2-5 favorite, won it last year. Irish Castle, from his Mother's Wheatley Stable looks as the likely favorite this time.

On Saturday the $25,000 Pumonok Handicap is the feature at Aqueduct. Elsewhere there is the $75,000 New Orleans Handicap at the Fair Grounds, the $50,000 San Felipe Handicap at Santa Anita, the $35,000 Canadian Turf Handicap at Gulfstream and the $27,500 Cahill-Stakes at Pimlico which opens today.

Quicken Treen, $19.80, surprised by winning the $145,000 Santa Anita Handicap at the California track last Saturday as Nodouble, the favorite, finished eighth in the field of 12.

Quicken Treen, who carried 118 pounds compared to 130 for Nodouble, beat Fiddle Isle by a length, then survived a claim of foul by the rider on the third place finisher Field Master.

New Orleans Is Still in a Tailspin

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
New Orleans' tailspin in the American Basketball Association's Western Division continues at fullspeed and the Bucs, division leaders only a few weeks ago, are now just 1 1/2 games out of last place.

The Bucs showed signs of ending their eight-game losing streak Sunday, however, by forcing Denver into two overtimes, but the Rockets finally prevailed with a 108-103 victory.

Elsewhere in the ABA Sunday, Indiana downed Dallas 131-114, the Carolina Cougars whipped the New York Nets 107-105 and Pittsburgh nipped Miami 135-121.

In the National Basketball Association, Milwaukee nipped Boston 138-134, Philadelphia pounded New York 133-116, Baltimore edged Seattle 109-106 and Los Angeles defeated Cincinnati 144-116.

Spencer Haywood scored 46 points for Denver to make up for the absence for the third straight game of Rocket floor leader Larry Jones, out with a foot injury.

The Rockets, who lost the two earlier games that Jones missed, increased their first-place lead in the West to 1 1/2 games over Dallas.

New Orleans' Jones boys kept the Bucs in contention until the second overtime when Denver reserve Ben Warley produced six of his team's 14 points, including an important three-pointer which buried New Orleans.

For the Bucs, Steve Jones scored 25 points and Jimmy Jones 23.
Eastern Division leader Indiana built up a 17-point third period cushion over Dallas and remained safely ahead in the final going.

Increase in School Tax

Every time the community is faced with a school tax increase proposal your editor has to write something that makes both sides in the controversy mad—the school teachers on the one hand, property owners on the other.

It isn't the aim of today's piece to influence voters in this particular school election who are holding on Tuesday—if it were we would have displayed our remarks with the special emphasis of a four-column layout. Rather, this is a factual report on the haphazard and unfair tax policies of Hope School District 1-A—policies in which our district is not alone, but policies still haphazard and unfair.

In short, your editor is going to vote against the 10-mill school tax increase in Tuesday's school election. The present school tax is 40 mills. The 50-mill proposal therefore represents a school tax increase of 25 per cent.

The extension would be against presently-assessed property. Increasing the millage without examining the assessing record simply means that the added tax burden would fall heaviest upon the one-house owner, probably the only taxpayer in the district whose assessment is anywhere close to what the law requires.

School authorities in general—Hope authorities in particular—hold frequent elections to increase the millage rate; but how often do you hear about them taking action against under-assessing of property values?

Up to 1950 there was an 18-mill ceiling on school taxes. Not being able to go beyond that rate school authorities had to police assessment practices in order to get the money with which to keep the schools operating. But with repeal of the ceiling the millage rate became unlimited—the Hope rate rose from 18 to 40 mills, now threatens to go to 50, and some Arkansas districts have actually exceeded 60 mills. What's happened to the assessing base since abandonment of the 18-mill ceiling? The ratio of assessments to inflated property values has declined. I checked the assessment records of Hope School District 1-A this morning at the courthouse. Here is the table of millage-assessment relationship I wound up with:

YEAR	MIL-LAGE	ASSESS-MENT
1950	18	$5,226,713
1955	35	6,454,500
1961	(5 mill hike beaten)	8,396,305
1962	40	8,482,365
1969	50 pro-posed	(*)12,084,030

(*) Improvement in the 1969 figure was due partly to increasing the assessment of timberlands from $6 to $9.50 per acre.

Studying the foregoing table you note the assessment total for the district merely doubled over a 19-year period—while inflation lifted market values at least three times.

Assessment values not only failed to keep up with the market on existing property but apparently failed to account for any part of the millions of dollars spent on new construction in the district since 1950.

Obviously, if the school managers had made the same effort since 1950 to maintain a proper assessing level that they did before 1950 when they were limited to 18 mills, we wouldn't be paying a 40-mill tax today—and wouldn't be confronted by a request for 50 mills Tuesday. The assessment base is leaking—and instead of repairing the leak the school people are simply laying in an increasing supply of tin-cans to bail with (millage increases)—until finally comes the evil day when the assessment boat goes under with the overload of a millage rate which is prohibitive.

Remember what the late Dr. Don Smith, former Hope School Board chairman, told me when we were introduced by the late O.A. Graves in 1929:

"We have a quaint way of handling school taxation around here. The millage goes up—assessments go down—and the dollars come out even."

Good old Dr. Smith. Forthright like your editor—he told it like it is.

10 Mill Tax Big Issue in School Vote

Voters in Hope School District 1-A go to polls Tuesday to decide on a 10 mill tax increase and to pick four directors. A large turnout is expected.

An addition of 10 mills would bring the district tax to 50 mills. Only two of the board posts have opposition. Post No. 2 has Al Graves Jr., and Mrs. Ophelia V. Williams as candidates while Wesley Huddleston and W.M. Muldrew are seeking Post No. 3. Here is where you vote:

U.S. Soybean Farmers Concerned Over Threat From Danish Horsebean

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP) — American soybean farmers have enjoyed a thriving export market lately but there is growing concern over a possible Danish competitor called the horsebean, says the Agriculture Department.

The horsebean is an ancient oilseed but only in the last four years have officials in Denmark tried to develop it as a major crop, the Foreign Agricultural Service reported today.

Horsebean acreage has increased about 20-fold in the past three years, the FAS said. But drought in parts of Denmark last year cut yields and plantings may be down in 1970.

Despite the setback, the FAS said in a report, Danish agricultural leaders consider the crop as a big potential for livestock feed, particularly for cattle.

If production and demand materializes as Danish officials hope, horsebeans could cut into the brisk soybean trade U.S. growers have developed with the European country.

Agriculture Department officials have pointed with pride to expanding soybean exports, now estimated 340 million bushels for the current marketing year, compared with 287 million in 1968-69.

Denmark has been an important market for U.S. soybeans, taking around 15 million bushels annually. Japan and other European countries comprise the largest markets.

But even if horsebean use is increased, the FAS report said, soybeans will probably continue to be important to high-quality Danish meat output.

"Soybean meal has been given the stamp of approval by Danish nutritionists as producing the best lean, firm pork—essential for Danish bacon exports," the FAS said.

Horsebean meal can be used in hog rations, officials said, but only in proportions of about 10 to 15 per cent of the total feed content.

Voting Age Issue Is Raised Anew

By JOHN CHADWICK

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the Senate maneuvering over Negro voting rights legislation, the issue of lowering the voting age to 18 was raised anew today by two senators poles apart politically.

A Senate judiciary subcommittee called a hearing to give Sens. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., a chance to advance their arguments that Congress can give the vote to 18-year-olds.

Although Goldwater and Kennedy agree on this, they differ on whether it should be made a condition to prevent de facto rights because of race.

The legislation is embroiled in a dispute between senators who want to continue the 1965 Voting Rights Act, applying to seven Southern states, and a nationwide bill urged by President Nixon and already passed by the House.

An amendment to lower the voting age to 18 already has been offered by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. One of the co-sponsors is Kennedy, the assistant Democratic leader.

But Goldwater says the proposal should be handled as a separate measure rather than entangled in the already sharp controversy over the voting rights legislation.

Many senators maintain the voting age can be lowered to 18 only by a constitutional amendment.

A proposed constitutional amendment lists 67 senators as co-sponsors and hearings on it already have been held by the Judiciary subcommittee, headed by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

However, Bayh signed up last week as one of 10 co-sponsors of Mansfield's amendment to the voting rights bill.

An aide to Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., a subcommittee member, said he also has concluded the voting age can be lowered by statute and plans to introduce a separate bill.

In the Senate, where debate began a week ago, supporters of a straight-out extension of the 18-year-old rule are being outmaneuvered by those who favor a more gradual approach.

The House has passed a bill to lower the voting age to 18, but it has not yet reached the Senate.

Scientists Feel They Have Finest Record of a Solar Eclipse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Scientists believe they have taken man's finest record of a solar eclipse, but months of painstaking work must be done for the mass of raw data to be refined to nuggets of new information.

Within their records of Saturday's total eclipse of the sun may lie the answer to such practical questions as how astronauts might be warned of an impending solar flare.

Or they may satisfy scientific curiosity with data that proves or disproves one scholar's theory that a family of micrometeorites races around the sun, masked by its glare.

Albert E. Belton of the National Science Foundation said researchers up and down the North American continent put together "the most comprehensive and integrated study of a solar eclipse in history."

They used nearly 70 rockets and seven earth satellites, took readings with spectrographs, infrared detectors and other instruments and observed from the moon blacked out the sun.

"It will be a long time before we can answer the questions we asked, but the information is going to be there," said Robert L. Krieger, director of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Wallops Island, Va., station.

Clouds disheartened scientists and amateur astronomers in Florida and South Georgia but skies were clear for a scientific team that gathered in the highlands at Miahualan, Mexico in the path of totality.

"It was absolutely perfect," said Harvard astronomer Donald H. Menzel who was part of the Mexico team. "I have never seen a better sky in any eclipse."

The scientists turned out because a total eclipse permits observations of the sun, stars, planets and space not otherwise obtainable. They expect new information in three primary areas: meteorology, ionospheric physics and solar physics.

The eclipse was also viewed by millions of private citizens in Mexico, the United States and Canada. Most apparently heedful of prior warnings that direct observation of the event could result in severe burns of the retina.

A check of hospitals in a dozen cities turned up no reports of retinal burns attributable to the eclipse.

Nixon Plans New Foreign Aid Approach

By CARL C. CRAFT

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, praising the findings of a presidential task force, says he will propose legislation next January to carry out a "new U.S. approach to foreign assistance for the 1970s."

As the White House disclosed the 40-page report of the presidential task force Sunday calling for more international cooperation, Nixon said the recommendations were "fresh and exciting."

The President, in a statement issued shortly before he returned to Washington from a three-day stay at Key Biscayne, Fla., reported the new overseas aid approach he will offer Congress will be among his major foreign-policy projects for the future.

The 16-member panel—headed by Rudolph A. Peterson, former president of the Bank of America—recommended a basic revision of the U.S. foreign aid program and an increase in money for economic development abroad.

Nixon agreed with the Peterson panel's conclusion that the United States has a profound interest in cooperating with developing nations in efforts to improve their conditions of life.

The task force listed no specific dollar amount but said the downward dip of U.S. assistance for development abroad should be reversed.

Economic development aid should be split from projects for military and security-connected economic assistance, the panel said.

The panel also suggested there should be more economic aid applied through international institutions and emphasis on self-help and use of private enterprise.

The panel recommended that new agencies take over functions now performed by the Agency for International Development—which was created under the Kennedy administration to run the economic aid program.
